GOLF IS GOOD FOR FITNESS

The GolfRSA campaign exploring the benefits of golf continues in the month of March with the theme Golf is Good for Fitness.

According to the Better Health Channel, you will walk between 5-7km over 18 holes. If you walk this three to five times a week, you'll get the optimal amount of endurance exercise required. If you pull or carry your clubs, you will burn even more calories each round! Read more here:

Gavin Groves explains in his article "On Your Feet" in The Golf Mag how walking restores the natural rhythm of your game and often produces better golf. Read more about this here:

The March edition of The Golf Mag also features golf courses "Made for Walking".

Read the article by Ben Karpinski here:

We challenge you to walk the course for the next month and make Golf is Good for Fitness your #HealthyHabit for the next month!

Are you getting enough golfing steps in???
The document will be posted on the member group so all links are accessible.
A good read for sure!
